The Multi-Blender is a volumetric unit, which continuously blends the desired products. One of the major advantages of this blender is the speed in which a truckload can be blended.

Another advantage is the quality of blend even when adding small amounts of product. This is achieved because every product is continuously metered into a common blend auger, which means it's evenly distributed throughout the entire blend.

- Mild steel or stainless steel
- High speed continuous flow blending – no batching
- Variable speed DC motors allow for precision blending
- Low horsepower requirements
- 100% end loader efficiency
